Personal Profile:

I am a dedicated and reliable individual currently based in Nelson, with a strong commitment to family and old-school work ethics such as punctuality, effective communication, and keen attention to detail. My wife and I are embracing a new chapter in life, traveling New Zealand in our self-contained caravan, allowing us the flexibility to work seasonally across the country.

I bring a good level of physical fitness and a practical mindset that supports a focused and clear approach to tasks. With a background in hands-on roles, I pride myself on being observant, safety-conscious, and quick to adapt to new environments.

My personable nature enables me to connect easily with colleagues and contribute positively to team dynamics.

In my downtime, I enjoy outdoor activities such as kayaking, caravanning, and bush walks, which reflect my appreciation for hard work and balance in life. I'm excited to bring my skills, strong work ethic, and enthusiasm to a seasonal forklift role, helping businesses meet their operational goals.
